Re: United States v. Maurizio Parlato
Dkt No. 20-CR-00740-SRC

Dear Judge Chesler:

I am counsel for the defendant in the above captioned case.

As one of the conditions of my client's pre-trial release, his freedom to travel was restricted. He surrendered his United States and Italian passports to Pre-Trial Services after his initial appearance before the Court. I am requesting the Court's permission for my client to travel to Italy due to health issues involving his father.

Mr. Parlato's parents are both elderly. His father, Raffaele Parlato, is ninety-one years of age, has recently endured some health issues and is not recovering well. He currently resides in Contrada Torre Fano, Pachino, Siracusa, Sicily. My client wishes to travel to Italy for three weeks to address his father's situation. My client has not been to visit his parents since mid-2020.

An e-mail from the elder Mr. Parlao's physician is annexed. The message translates as follows:

"As you have learned from your sister and your mother, the health conditions of your father Raffaele have rapidly worsened. He has been transferred last week to the emergency Department of the Avola Hospital where they have diagnosed a pathology to his kidneys. Due to his age and his health conditions, any surgical procedure has been opted out by the doctors at the Hospital. Unfortunately, he is still in reserved prognosis.

*Kind regards
Rossetta Basile"*

Assistant United States Attorney Catherine Murphy does not object to this temporary return of the two passports for this purpose. I am annexing an Order on Consent relative to this request.

Respectfully submitted,

Anthony J. Siano

Come avrà saputo le condizioni cliniche di suo padre si sono aggravate rapidamente. E' stato ricoverato in ospedale ad Avola dove è stata riscontrata una patologia a carico dei reni.
In atto non sarà possibile intervenire chirurgicamente, viste l'età e le precarie condizioni di salute.
La prognosi purtroppo rimane riservata.
Cordiali saluti
Rossetta Basile
